

Muslim Population in London by Borough (2011)

Muslim population data comes from the Greater London Authority, which was downloaded from the ONS Secure Research Service. This service conducts annual population surveys for London. Data that has percentages of fewer than 10 samples have been eliminated. Any numbers from suppressed cells were added to "Any Other Religion".

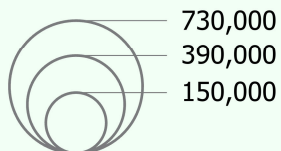

This data was joined to Greater London Authority borough polygon data from 2011. The British National Grid coordinate system was chosen to minimize the effects of curvature. Since no distance measurements are required the British national grid was suitable as a Transverse Mercator projection for preserving shape.
